

Hi, my name is Sophie Gober. I'm in 6th grade at HAFTR. As part of my bat mitzvah project, I am raising money for Sharsheret. Sharsheret is an organization that provides breast cancer and ovarian cancer support and resources for Jewish families. My great-aunt, Susan Borger, just lost her 3 year battle with ovarian cancer. In her memory, I have decided to sell raffle tickets for the next month (until my grandmother's shloshim-30 days of mourning- is finished) and the money raised will go to Sharsheret in my great-aunt's memory. There will be a few raffle prizes: one is a blue zip up aviator nation sweatshirt, another is a blue fjall raven mini backpack, and another is a pink champion sweatshirt.

The cost of the raffle ticket is $5. You can get tickets by donating through my GoFundMe page (see below). The more tickets you buy, the more chances you have to win. I will announce the winner December 14th.

Let's raise a lot of money for this important organization! I also have a go fund me page that goes straight to Sharsheret. <https://www.gofundme.com/sophies-bat-mitzvah-project>

For more information about Sharsheret, you can go to Sharsheret.org.

Thank you!
Sophie Gober
