

NEWS FROM SHARSHERET

JUNE 2025

At 45, Sandra was diagnosed with breast cancer. On her mother's advice, she reached out to Sharsheret, and within a day, found compassion, resources, and understanding. With her wife, Marian, by her side, Sandra faced the challenges of treatment and healing. Sharsheret's inclusive support helped her navigate both the visible and invisible impacts of cancer, reminding her she wasn't alone.

Living Forward: Reflections on Survivorship

Two years after finishing treatment for triple-positive breast cancer, survivorship remains a daily journey.

With no personal roadmap, I leaned on Sharsheret's Ruth and Sidney Vine Peer Support Network for guidance and hope. Today, as a peer supporter, I continue to heal as I help others navigate their own paths. Read Audrey's story here.

The Change Reaction Radio: A Gift of Support

Shayna Welsh's cancer diagnosis turned her world upside down. She received financial relief, dignity, and space to breathe.

In Change Reaction Radio, Shayna shares how personal psychosocial support makes all the difference.
